

How can someone rent a channel and not use it as they desire? Would all the cell phones be required to give up their rentals and provide their means of transmission, wow how many poles would stick up in the air?